KEY RISKS
WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT? You should consider and satisfy yourself as to the risks of investing in the sub-fund. An investment in the sub-fund is meant to produce returns over the long-term. You should not expect to obtain short-term gains from such investments. There is no assurance that the investment objectives of the ILP Sub-Fund will actually be achieved. The securities and instruments in which the sub-fund may invest are subject to market fluctuations and other risks inherent in such investments and there can be no assurance that any appreciation in value will occur. The risk factors may cause you to lose some or all your investments. A description of the major risks is provided below.	For further information, please refer to “Risks” of the Fund Summary for ILP.

Market and Credit Risks
You are exposed to the following risks: Business Risk The investments of the underlying fund are subject to market fluctuations and other risks inherent with investment in stocks and shares. As such, the price of shares in the underlying fund can go down as well as up and an investor may not get back the amount invested. Political and/or Environmental Risk The investee companies may operate in countries where the ownership rights may be uncertain and development of the resources of investee companies may be subject to disruption due to factors including civil disturbances, industrial action, interruption of power supplies, as well as adverse climatic conditions. Currency Risk Where the ILP sub-fund is denominated in SGD and has an investment in a market outside Singapore, there will be no hedging of such foreign currency exposure and investors will be exposed to exchange rate risks. The Reference Currency of the underlying fund is the USD, whereas the underlying investments of the underlying fund are denominated in a variety of currencies including USD, Euros and Sterling. The Management Company/Investment Manager will not seek to hedge out currency exposure at underlying fund level. Consequently, the performance of the ILP sub-fund and underlying fund may be strongly influenced by movements in foreign exchange rates because the Reference Currency may not correspond to the currency of the securities positions it held. Global Investment Risk Securities of certain jurisdictions may experience more rapid and extreme changes in value. The value of such securities may be affected by uncertainties. The legal infrastructure and accounting, auditing and reporting standards in certain countries in which investment may be made may not provide the same degree of investor protection or information to investors as would generally apply in major securities markets. Adverse conditions in a certain region can adversely affect securities of other countries.
Liquidity Risks
Liquidity Risk The underlying fund is exposed to risk that an investment cannot be liquidated in a timely manner at a reasonable price. The ILP sub-fund is not listed The sub-fund is not listed on Singapore Exchange and you can redeem only on Business day through Income Insurance. There is no secondary market for the sub-fund.
Product-Specific Risks
Long-term Investment Strategy Risk The underlying fund’s investment philosophy is to seek to invest in companies which will provide higher than average risk adjusted returns over the long-term. The underlying fund does not seek to engage in short-term trading strategies to generate returns. Accordingly, any investment in the underlying fund should be viewed as a long-term investment. Concentration Risk The underlying fund’s investment approach is to invest in a relatively small number of securities. This may result in portfolio concentration in sectors, countries, or other groupings. These potential concentrations mean that a loss arising in a single investment may cause a proportionately greater loss to the underlying fund than if a larger number of investments were made.

Counterparty Risk The underlying fund will be subject to the risk of the inability of any counterparty to perform with respect to transactions, whether due to its own insolvency or that of others, bankruptcy, market illiquidity or disruption or other causes and whether resulting from systemic or other reasons. Performance Risk The risk levels will depend on individual investment selections made by the investment manager of underlying fund.

Your exit price is determined as follows:

1. If you submit the redemption order before 3 pm on a business day, you will be paid a bid price based on the net asset value of the sub-fund at the close of that business day.
