

Global Income Fund

Fund Summary
as of 22 October 2024

Investment Objective

The Global Income Fund aims to provide income and capital growth over the medium to long-term by investing primarily in global equities and global fixed income securities directly or indirectly through the use of investment funds or financial derivative instruments (including, but not limited to, futures, options and credit default swaps).

The sub-fund currently offers a monthly distribution pay-out feature. Distributions are not guaranteed and can be made out of the income, capital gains and/or capital of the sub-fund.

Investment Scope

The sub-fund intends to achieve the objective by investing all or substantially all of its assets in Schroder International Selection Fund Global Multi-Asset Income (“underlying fund”) in SGD Hedged A Distribution Share Class. The underlying fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets directly or indirectly through derivatives in equity and equity-related securities, fixed income securities and alternative asset classes. As the underlying fund is index-unconstrained, it is managed without reference to an index.

The sub-fund is denominated in Singapore Dollars.

Further information on the exposure to alternative asset classes, can be found in Appendix III, section "Fund Details" of the underlying fund’s Luxembourg Prospectus available at www.schroders.com/en-sg/sg/individual/fund-centre

Investment Approach

The underlying fund may invest up to 50% of its assets in sub-below investment grade (fixed and floating rate) securities (being securities with a credit rating below investment grade as measured by Standard & Poor's or any equivalent grade of other credit rating agencies) and unrated securities. The underlying fund may invest in excess of 50% of its assets in emerging market debt (fixed and floating rate) securities.

The underlying fund may use derivatives (including total return swaps), long and short, with the aim of achieving investment gains, reducing risk or managing the underlying fund more efficiently. Where the underlying fund uses total return swaps and contracts for difference, the underlying consists of instruments in which the underlying fund may invest according to its investment objective and investment strategy. In particular, total return swaps and contracts for difference may be used to gain long and short exposure on equity and equity related securities, fixed and floating rate securities and commodity indices. The gross exposure of total return swaps and contracts for difference will not exceed 30% and is expected to remain within the range of 0% to 20% of the net asset value of the underlying fund. In certain circumstances this proportion may be higher. The underlying fund may invest up to 10% of its assets in open-ended investment funds. The underlying fund may invest in money market instruments and hold cash.

Risks

Key Risks

Income Insurance’s ILP sub-funds are intended for long-term investment, it is not suited for any short-term speculation. You should not expect to obtain any short-term gains from investing in Income Insurance’s ILP sub-funds. It is important that your investment suit your risk appetite. You may wish to consult your financial advisor before investing in any ILP sub-fund.

The securities and instruments in which the sub-fund may invest are subject to market fluctuations and other risks inherent in such investments and there can be no assurance that any appreciation in value will occur.

You should be aware that past performance is not indicative of future performance. The value of the units may rise or fall as the performance of the sub-fund changes.

The sub-fund and the underlying fund are exposed to the risks set out in this section. Given that the sub-fund invests entirely into the underlying fund, the risks associated with the underlying fund will also impact the sub-fund.

The risks described in this paragraph are not exhaustive and you should be aware that the ILP sub-fund and the underlying fund may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time. The risk factors may cause you to lose some or all your investments. A description of the major risks is provided below.

Market and Credit Risks

You are exposed to market risks. The value of investments by the underlying fund may go up and down due to changing economic, political or market conditions, or due to an issuer’s individual situation.

You are exposed to currency risks. The underlying fund can be exposed to different currencies. Changes in foreign exchange rates could create losses.

You are exposed to credit risks. A decline in the financial health of an issuer could cause the value of its bonds to fall or become worthless.

Fund Summary
as of 22 October 2024

Liquidity Risks

You are exposed to liquidity risks. There is no secondary market for the sub-fund. All redemption requests should be made to the Manager. In exceptional circumstances, the sub-fund's investment in the underlying fund may not be readily redeemable.

Product-Specific Risks

You are exposed to China country risks. Changes in China's political, legal, economic or tax policies could cause losses or higher costs of the underlying fund.

You are exposed to counterparty risks. The counterparty to a derivative or other contractual agreement or synthetic financial product could become unable to honour its commitments to the underlying sub-fund, potentially creating a partial or total loss of the underlying fund.

You are exposed to money market and deposit risks. A failure of a deposit institution or an issuer of a money market instrument could create losses.

You are exposed to debt securities risks. A security issuer may not be able to meet its obligations to make timely payments of interest and principal. This will affect the credit rating of those securities.

You are exposed to financial derivatives risks. The underlying fund may use financial derivative instruments as part of the investment process. The use of futures, options, warrants, forwards, swaps or swap options involves increased risk. The underlying fund's ability to use such instruments successfully depends on the manager's ability to accurately predict movements in stock prices, interest rates, currency exchange rates or other economic factors and the availability of liquid markets. If the manager's predictions are wrong, or if the financial derivative instruments do not work as anticipated, the underlying fund could suffer greater loss than if the underlying fund had not used such instruments.

You are exposed to leverage risks. The underlying fund uses derivatives for leverage, which makes it more sensitive to certain market or interest rate movements and may cause above-average volatility and risk of loss.

You are exposed to emerging markets and frontier risks. Emerging markets, and especially frontier markets, generally carry greater political, legal, counterparty and operational risk.

You are exposed to equity risks. Equity prices fluctuate daily, based on many factors including general, economic, industry or company news.

You are exposed to high yield bond risks. High yield bonds (normally lower rated or unrated) generally carry greater market, credit and liquidity risk.

You are exposed to interest rate risks. A rise in interest rates generally causes bond prices to fall.

You are exposed to onshore Renminbi currency risks. Currency control decisions made by the Chinese government could affect the value of the underlying fund's investments and could cause the sub-fund to defer or suspend redemptions of its shares.

You are exposed to risks relating to distributions. The manager of the underlying fund has the absolute discretion to determine whether a distribution is to be made. The manager of the underlying fund also reserves the right to review and make changes to the distribution policy from time to time. Where the income generated by the underlying fund is insufficient to pay distributions as declared, the manager of the underlying may at its discretion make such distributions out of the capital of the underlying fund. In circumstances where distributions are paid out of the capital of the underlying fund, the net asset value of the underlying fund will be reduced.

Conflicts of Interest

Income Insurance

As the Manager of various ILP sub-funds and insurance funds, we may from time to time have to deal with competing or conflicting interests between these sub-funds/insurance funds. However, we will use all reasonable endeavours to act fairly and in the best interest of the sub-fund. We will conduct all transactions with or for the sub-fund on an arm's length basis. The Manager has in place policies and procedures to monitor and mitigate conflicts of interest which may arise in the management of these sub-funds. We believe that these policies and procedures are reasonably designed to ensure that portfolio management decisions are made in the best interest of the sub-fund and each sub-fund is treated fairly, regardless of the existence of any conflict.

Schroder

The Investment Managers, the Sub-Investment Managers, the Investment Advisers and the Singapore Representative may effect transactions, including techniques and instruments such as securities lending, repurchase agreements and reverse repurchase agreements, in which the Investment Managers, the Sub-Investment Managers, the Investment Advisers or the Singapore Representative have, directly or indirectly, an interest which may involve a potential conflict with the Investment Managers', the Sub-Investment Managers', the Investment Advisers' or the Singapore Representative's duty to the Fund or relevant sub-fund. Neither the Investment Managers, the Sub-Investment Managers, the Investment Advisers nor the Singapore Representative shall be liable to account to the Fund or any sub-fund for any profit, commission or remuneration made or received from or by reason of such transactions or any connected transactions nor will the Investment Managers', the Sub-Investment Managers', the Investment Advisers' or the Singapore Representative's fees, unless otherwise provided, be abated. The Investment Managers, the Sub-Investment Managers, the Investment Advisers and the Singapore Representative (as the case may be) will ensure that such transactions are effected on terms which are not less favourable to the Fund or relevant sub-fund than if the potential conflict had not existed. Such potential conflicting interests or duties may arise because the Investment Managers, the Sub-Investment Managers, the Investment Advisers or the Singapore Representative may have invested directly or indirectly in the Fund or because the Singapore Representative may, in its capacity as manager for other collective investment schemes in Singapore, invest into any one or more of the sub-funds.

The Investment Managers and the Sub-Investment Managers may also have to deal with competing or conflicting interests between any of the sub-funds which may be managed by the same Investment Manager or Sub-Investment Manager. In such instance, the Investment Manager or the Sub-Investment Manager (as the case may be) will use reasonable endeavours at all times to act fairly and in the interests of the relevant sub-funds, taking into account the availability of cash and relevant investment guidelines of the sub-funds and ensuring that the securities bought and sold are allocated proportionally as far as possible among the sub-funds.

Other Parties

The auditor of this sub-fund is KPMG LLP. Please note that financial results ending 31 December of each year will be audited.

Material Information

Dilution and dilution adjustment of the underlying fund

The underlying fund is single priced and may suffer a reduction in value as a result of the transaction costs incurred in the purchase and sale of its underlying investments and the spread between buying and selling prices of such investment caused by subscriptions, redemptions and/or switches in and out of the underlying fund. This is known as "dilution". In order to counter this and to protect unit holders' interest, Schroder Investment Management (Europe) S.A will apply "dilution adjustment" as part of its daily valuation policy. This will mean that in certain circumstances Schroder Investment Management (Europe) S.A will make adjustments in the calculations of the net asset value per unit of the underlying fund, to counter the impact of dealing and other costs on occasions when these are deemed to be significant. Further information on dilution and dilution adjustment can be found on section 2.4 "Calculation of Net Asset Value" of the underlying fund's Luxembourg prospectus.
